

OFFICE OF NANCY REAGAN

August 18, 2006

To the Gynecologic Cancer Foundation,

I am pleased to send my congratulations to the Gynecologic Cancer Foundation on declaring September Gynecologic Cancer Awareness month. I can tell you from my own experience with breast cancer how important it is for women to have not just excellent medical care, but understanding and support.

My sincere thanks go out to all of you for increasing public awareness of women's cancers. Through resourceful and determined work in research and education, the day is coming when cancer - all cancers - will be curable and finally preventable.

I appreciate all the good work you are doing and I salute all of you who have taken this cause into your hearts.

Sincerely,

Nancy Reagan
